

Old School

Get your game on with interactive drinking fun

Summer is wearing on and Go-Karting doubtless you've hit the bars and hit them hard. This weekend, why not try a more interactive approach to drinking with these helpful, booze-friendly activities. See the CW website for contact details for all venues and clubs mentioned.

Arcades

Have some old-school fun at the Wangfujing or Viva Shuangjing arcades. While they don't sell booze on the spot, you can easily hit up a shop before you arrive and brown bag it. Our favorite game was a simple one where you toss plastic balls at a screen of dancing beavers. This quickly turns into a rowdy and fun way to kick back a few drinks with friends. These arcades boast an impressive array of imported games like Time Crisis and Dance Dance Revolution, as well as popular Japanese and Korean games.

Dust off your vocal chords and memorize the lyrics to "Country Roads," because KTV is one of the best interactive drinking activities this side of Vegas. Melody and Tong Yi Shou Ge have more than a smattering of English-language songs, and the acoustics are great. You also won't be accosted by female "singing friends," and the drink selection goes beyond whiskey and green tea.

U-Speed go-karting is a fun way to get a bit tipsy and then get behind the wheel. Anywhere else in the city, this is generally frowned upon, but if you must drink and drive, do it here. Specials on drinks make it a fun and affordable activity, plus U-Speed just opened a second venue.

Bowling

In the true 1950s spirit of social fun, head to Gongti 100 or the Lido Center Bowling Alley, where you'll be able to toss balls as you drink

Doubtless you've hit the bars and hit them hard with friends. For an innocent date, this is a sure way to test your partner's patience and athletic prowess, as well as their consumption limits.

Public Intoxication

Join the Hash House Harriers for a night of exercise and drinking, the perfect combo for those of us who live between health nut and party animal.

For a classier approach to public drinking, pick up a bottle of wine at Jenny Lou's and rent a boat on Houhai (¥100), where you can paddle around sipping your superior vino.

■ Lauren Johnson

NEWS & MESSIP

Reform and Openings

We're not on the main tour circuit for international acts, but this month Beijing is graced with the Black Rabbit Music Festival, which brings in bigwigs from across the music scene (see p. 12). We're also impressed with the news that Black Rebel Motorcycle Club, DJ Vadim and the Electric, DJ Shadow and Paul Van Dyk will be visiting soon. Perhaps Beijing is finding its way into the tour circuit after all. The Mongolian Music Festival and Ninegates Jazz Festival are impressive fests that are sure to get music fanatics pumped as well. Lantern re-opened last month with a massive bash that was exactly what the city needed after a long, slow summer. In sad news, Beijing's longest-running dance club, Club Nightman, has closed. RIP (1994-2011). A new addition to the Sanlitun Nan area, Lounge Bar will be reviewed by yours truly soon, as will the new White Rabbit venture Haze, the dance club Spark, and Gongti's new B.E.D. bar. We hear Centro is set to re-open after renovating its décor, too. And, if you've been following the Heaven Liquor Shop's unending expansion, you won't be shocked to learn that they have plans to open a beer bar where Swensen's used to be.

Nightlife Editor

Check my Beijing Weekender post every Thursday for the weekend's best parties and rock shows. www.cityweekend.com.cn

Parties

FRIDAY, SEP 9

Back to School Party

With music by DJs Stone and Kableguy, you'll get the hottest hip-hop, house and tribal tunes to help you celebrate the back-to-school season. 10pm Dao Club 150-1026-3674, 158-1047-8490 bbspiders@hotmail.com, www.daoclub.cn

SATURDAY, SEP 10

Fight Night

Get your testosterone flowing and head to LAN Club to experience fight night, where 20 percent off drinks makes this a steal as well as a good bash. LAN's sexy ring girls and dancers complete the picture. 7pm

LAN Club 5109-6012/13, www.lan-global.com

Summer Madness: Outdoor Hotpot

Twelve straight hours of outdoor chilling as DJ Wordy rips up the decks in classic Hotpot style. Usually a staple at Punk, this is the first time Wordy will be bringing his tunes to 2 Kolegas. Expect nothing but the best electronic music in a range of styles all day and night on the lawn. 3pm

2 Kolegas 135-5227-6845, 136-9118-0119 2kolegas@163.com, www.2kolegas.com

87FEI87

Verktyget and Black Mansions play skweee, wonky and glitch-hop. Don't miss these innovators and their synth rhymes at Bed Bar, where drinks are a mere ¥35 a pop. 9pm

Bed Bar 8400-1554

Teachers Night

Show off your dance moves and learn some new ones at this event, held in honor of the Chinese Teachers' Day Festival. Some of the most skilled dancing teachers in town will be there to teach you how to shake your money maker, and hot DJs will be laying down the beats, including DJs Dio, Ou Yang and Bite-Size Buddha. ¥50. 10pm Tango 6428-2288

The Drop feat. JCC

Oshi & Tnem bring you The Drop #12, featuring DJ JCC, the best female drum 'n' bass DJ in China, with support from Oshi and Tnem for a night of electro madness in Beijing. 10pm

Earl Bar 8511-6646 whatsup@waitforthedrop.net, basskake.com

SUNDAY, SEP 11

Dio + Weng Weng

Dio and Weng Weng spin their beats at Lantern, bringing some of the hottest underground electronic music back to the capital in Lantern's reincarnated club north of Gongti West Gate. Free. 10pm

Lantern Club 135-0134-8785

Move On Up

DJ Bite-Size Buddha brings fellow DJs Suki, Saul D, Martin Star, Ludo V, Nassdak, Zhi Qi, Simon Adams and others to the decks on Migas rooftop for an eclectic afternoon of disco, soul, funk, reggae, pop and more. The event kicks off at 4pm and will run until the wee hours of the morning.

Migas 5208-6061, feverfunk@gmail.com

Add Your Event: Every issue we publish THE BEST events from our website. Next issue covers Sep. 22-Oct. 12. Upload your event by Sep. 12 www.cityweekend.com.cn